Several years ago, I found a gaming keyboard that I love to use for daily tasks at work.. Since most of the gaming dashboards out there are PC-based and I'm primarily a Mac user, I've had a little bit of a learning curve when it comes to customizing the operation of the individual devices.. I've wanted to have a comparable keyboard in my home office and found what I was looking for in the Corsair K70 RGB MK.. Unlimited Possibilities: Synchronize RGB lighting across all of your macOS-compatible CORSAIR products with a single click, or create your own amazing multi-layer dynamic lighting profiles with boundless customization.
